FOYLE ANN BOWDOIN

Miss Bowdoin Chosen Red Wave Majorette

Miss Foyle Ann Bowdoin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foy Bowdoin, has recently been selected as majorette with the Troy State College Red Wave Marching Band for the 1965 football season.

She was chosen as majorette after performing two routines before five of the old Troy State twirlers.

Foyle Ann has just graduated from Elba High School where she was a majorette for ten years and head majorette this past year with the Elba Tiger Band.

Foyle Ann will enter Troy State this fall as an Elementary Education major and will perform with the Troy Band for the first time September 18th when the Red Wave opens their season with Howard College in Troy.

Nunn Cited For Good Writing

Alexander Nunn, executive editor, "The Progressive Farmer," Birmingham, Alabama, was cited for "superior journalistic contributions in... building and managing our nation's soils."

Nunn is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, now Auburn University, and received an honorary Doctor of Science degree from Auburn University in 1959.

"The Progressive Farmer" was winner among magazines of more than 300,000 circulation.

Cotton Is Blooming In This County

The first cotton bloom brought to the Clipper during 1965 season was presented last Thursday, May 27, by R. W. (Bill) DeVaughan, of Route 4, Elba, who also has ginned the first bales of cotton in both Elba and Enterprise for the last two years.

He said that he "believed in early planting." "It can save the expense of poison if you get your cotton made before the weevils get out," says DeVaughan. He further stated that when "Mother Nature" puts forth her green leaves it's time for you plant yours. He started planting cotton on March 25th.

DeVaughan's acreage this year includes 200 acres of runner peanuts and 90 acres of Spanish peanuts and also 75 acres of corn to go with his 100 acres of cotton.

Big Andalusia Horse Show Set This Weekend

The Covington Saddle & Bridle Club is sponsoring the fourth annual horse show in Andalusia on June 4 at 6:30 p.m. and June 5 at 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the Andalusia Horse Show Grounds under the direction of the Seashore Horse Show Team.

Doctor Ray Evers, chairman of the show, expects over 250 entries from 7 or 8 states.

The 50 events, including hunter, walking and gaited horses, will have championships in all divisions. They will be judged by the Honorable Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols, hunters; the Honorable J. H. Noblin, walking; and the Honorable L. R. Duncan, gaited.

Eloise Pierson will be at the show furnishing music at the keyboards of her electric organ.

Doctor Evers suggests that stall reservations may be made by contacting Dr. W. G. King, P.O. Box 123, telephone 222-3232, Andalusia. The fees are $5 per stall. Unless reservations are made in advance, stalls will be assigned as entries are received.

This will be a Class A parade Saturday, June 5, at 10 a.m.

Bob Shelley, president of the Covington Saddle and Bridle Club and Dr. Ray Evers, general show chairman, have announced that the parade will assemble at Welch's Store on the Plott Highway.

Representing Governor Wallace will be State Commissioner of Revenue Phil Hamm and Harvey Lee Rabren, who serves as assistant to the Commissioner.

Congressman Bill Dickinson, who will address the Saturday night show at 6:30 p.m., is expected to be in Andalusia to ride in the parade, along with Hamm, Rabren, city officials and horse show officials.

Janet Murphree Elba Girl Candidate For Prexy

Janet Murphree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Murphree, will be campaigning for the office of President of the State FFA this week during the State Convention being held at Alabama College in Montevallo.

Janet will have the vote and campaign support of three of her classmates who are attending the convention with her. They are Page Rowe, Sara Warr, and Rebecca Bragg.

Janet's qualifications other than her charming personality and an all "A" scholastic record include being vice-president of the local FFA, Junior and Chapter degrees of Achievement, Secretary of the Student Council for three years, Treasurer of the Junior Class, Secretary-Treasurer of the Junior Music Club and served as a majorette for three years.

The group and their sponsor, Mrs. Bryan Taylor, left Elba for Montevallo at 6:30 A.M. Wednesday and will return tomorrow (Friday).

All the candidates for state offices were in the local FFA, Junior and Chapter degrees of Achievement, Secretary of the Student Council for three years, Treasurer of the Junior Class, Secretary-Treasurer of the Junior Music Club and served as a majorette for three years.

Brazelton Selected For Methodist Who's Who

E. D. BRAZELTON

Ellis Dwyer Brazelton was recently selected to appear in the second edition of Who's Who in American Methodism. The first edition was published in 1952. Methodists listed in Who's Who in the Methodist Church are carefully selected. The book will contain concise biographies of approximately 20,000 Methodist persons. It will include bishops, ministers, commission heads, district superintendents, organizational officers, institutional facilities, conference delegates, church boards, and members whose prominence lies chiefly outside the church, such as government officials, authors, and civic leaders. Individual activities, relationships, and communication are involved in the furtherance of the church and its work. The new volume will be the definitive source of information.

Mr. Brazelton is a real estate broker in Elba. He was born in Brownshoro, Alabama, October 17, 1909, the son of S.A. and Mailda Grayson Brazelton. He graduated from high school at Alabama College.

Beauty Contest Slated In Florala

The search is on for Miss June 24th of 1965. The afternoon of June 24th, on the spacious lawn of the Colonial Hotel overlooking "Beautiful Lake Jackson," at Florala, Alabama, a glittering crown will descend on the pretty head of some lovely girl. With that crown will go the honor of being "Miss June 24th" for the 95th consecutive Masonic Celebration.

The Beauty Pageant will be one of the most important and glamorous features of the 95th Masonic Celebration. Qualified judges will select a winner on the basis of beauty, poise and personality.

Participants must be 18 years of age or over.

Legion To Meet

The regular meeting of Culver Post #42 of the American Legion and the Ladies Auxiliary will be held Thursday night, June 3, at the Legion Hut on the Troy Highway.

Junior College Building Underway At Napier Field

Three identical golden spades were used today in a ground breaking ceremony to launch the construction of the George C. Wallace Junior College, one of the biggest educational projects in the history of the wiregrass.

The spades were manned by Mr. George H. Grimsley, President, Mr. Philip J. Hamm, State Commissioner of Revenue, and Mr. Huber Wallace, of Abbeville, uncle of the Governor.

Mr. Hamm, the main speaker for the ceremony, emphasized the tremendous opportunities for the youth of Alabama because of the greatly expanded Junior College and Technical Education program and the great industrial development of Alabama that is now underway. Hamm said, "We must develop Alabama's youth and we must develop Alabama," for Alabama's youth.

Mr. George H. Grimsley, President, pledged continued dedication to the task of helping the youth of this area develop their talents and abilities. He also announced that the Junior College will offer a complete two-year college program. He also stated, "I am happy to say that we will now have available to the people of the wiregrass area training in fifty different trade, technical, and academic fields on this one campus beginning September 27, 1965."

The new Junior College buildings are being constructed at the cost of $1,000,000. These first three buildings—the Administrative Classroom Building, the Science Building, and the Library—are to be completed by May, 1966. However, classes will begin September 30, 1965 in temporary quarters. Registration of Junior College Students will begin September 27, 1965.

IS A BIG WAR COMING IN SOUTHEAST ASIA? In official circles, the expressed opinion amounts to "probably not". The political, diplomatic and military leaders take the position that it is unlikely that either Russia or China, much as they want war, will take the enormous risks of a no-holds-barred war with the United States. At the same time, their statements are cautiously phrased, and it is clear that plans are being made for dealing with a far greater conflict than the present one if worse come to worst.

In this connection, a striking point was made by David Lawrence in a recent column. He writes, "With the best intentions in the world, pacifists sometimes bring on the very war that they proclaim their opposition. Unwittingly they give aid and comfort to an enemy country and serve to increase the possibility that American policy will be misinterpreted abroad as being supported by public opinion. Then chances will be taken by an adversary which could lead to war."

Mr. Lawrence cites two examples. One was the Senate's refusal to approve President Wilson's proposal to arm our passenger vessels, while we were still at peace during World War I, as a protection against German submarines. He notes that many historians think that gave the Germans a belief that America was divided, would not go to war, and led to unrestricted submarine warfare. Soon after, we entered the war. The second example concerns President Roosevelt's request shortly before World War II began, for authority to sell arms to Western Europe. Congress turned it down. This convinced Hitler that we would stay out of that war and encouraged him to embark on the conquest of Europe.

Mr. Lawrence fears that protests made against Vietnam policy, sincere and well-meaning as the critics are, might have some comparable result, by misleading the enemy into a belief that drastic steps can be risked by the forces on the theory that American opinion would not sustain a decisive response.

In any event, the President's position certainly has been made clear. This government is ready at all times to meet peacefully to bring about a peaceful settlement of the war in Viet Nam. If that is done, massive aid is promised that country. On the other hand, if the communists choose to continue the war, we will use our enormous resources to fight them.

In Mr. Johnson's words, "We

There is an old saying that you can't take your money with you but with me it will be a camera and don't guess I can take it with me. Might not be any use anyway. I have always said that no newspaper man will get to heaven and I don't think I will find a picture like I want in that other place. But if I could make it to the nearby gates and I could take my camera with me I might find the very picture I have been looking for.

In all its many ramifications, just about everyone agrees that in this age of amazing and almost unbelievable advances in technology and the sciences it is more vital to the national future, to say nothing of the future of individuals, than ever before. WAYNE DRIGGERS, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Driggers of Elba, Alabama, has been commended for his outstanding performance of duty, as a crew member of the fleet oiler USS Sabine, by Vice Admiral John McCain, Jr., Commander Amphibious Forces, U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

Sabine received the congratulatory message while operating with other U. S. ships off the coast of the Dominican Republic. The ship's primary mission is replenishment at sea. By keeping the Navy's fighting ships supplied with petroleum products, Sabine enables the nation's first line of defense to maintain battle-readiness at all times.

SAM E. BROWN, Maj., 34, whose wife, Evelyn, lives at 807 Goodson, Enterprise, Alabama, completed an associate transportation officer course at the Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Virginia, May 18.

Brown received instruction in the duties and responsibilities of a transportation officer and was trained in the operational procedures of transporting military personnel and equipment.

The major entered the Army in 1952 and was last stationed at Okinawa.

Major Brown, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond G. Brown, live at 713 N. Broadway, Sayre, Alabama, was graduated in 1948 from Oklahoma Military Academy and received a bachelor's degree in 1952 from the University of Oklahoma in Norman.

JAMES T. COWEN, Airmen First Class, son of R. D. Cowen, Route 2, Elba, Alabama, is now on duty with a unit of the U. S. Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) in Vietnam.

Airman Cowen is an aircraft structural repairman and is helping provide essential support and services for USAF personnel who are training and assisting the Vietnamese in their fight against communist aggression. PACAF is responsible for the training mission and providing airpower to defend the U. S. and its allies in the Pacific and Far East areas.

The airman is a graduate of Elba High School. His mother, Mrs. Eunice Stallings, resides at 2002 Geigel Avenue, Orlando, Florida. The 23-year-old officer is a 1959 graduate of New Orleans State School and received his bachelor's degree in 1965 from Auburn University.

DEWEY W. DRIGGERS, Airmen First Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Driggers of Route 1, New Brockton, Alabama, has arrived for duty at Sembach AB, Germany.

Airman Driggers, an air policeman, previously served at MacDill AFB, Florida. His new unit is part of the U. S. Air Forces in Europe which provides the major air contribution for defense of the NATO countries.

The airman, whose wife, Alice, is the daughter of Allen Tatum of Sheman, Texas, is a former student at Coffee County High School, Enterprise, Alabama.

JOHN R. KING, Aviation Ordnanceman First Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Driggers of Route 1, New Brockton, Alabama, has arrived for duty at Naval Air Station, San Diego, California.

He is assigned to Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 23 that operates from the station. The squadron's mission is to detect enemy submarines and destroy them when necessary.

Ed Ewing, Governor George C. Wallace has named Ed Ewing as Alabama's representative to the President's Task Force on "See the USA."

Ewing is director of the State Bureau of Publicity and Information. He will work with other members of the Task Force to promote travel throughout the United States.

We will be happy to cooperate with the "See the USA" program in every possible way," Governor Wallace said.

Ewing has been director of the Bureau of Publicity and Information since early in the Wallace Administration. He has been cited for travel promotion activities by the Alabama Petroleum Council, National Association of Travel Organizations and other travel groups.

Other teams having big seasons were the football team of Coach Bill Clippson, who came through with a sensational 1-3 record, and the round ballers of Coach John Archer, who had 22 wins against 8 defeats.

The cross-country team and the track team, both coached by Bill Clippson, the baseball team by Billy Williams, and the tennis team by Coach John Archer, all had credible records and contributed greatly to the overall athletic success of the Troy State College teams.

Governor George Wallace announced that the Coca-Cola Distributors of Alabama were again cooperating with the State Troopers and the State Safety Coordinating Committee in a state wide traffic safety program that will last through the summer months and into early fall.

Governor Wallace in accepting the first bumper sticker of the Stay Alive '65 program, said, "We are happy to again welcome the Coca-Cola Distributors of Alabama to aid us in our efforts to curb traffic accidents on our highways. I am unhappy to state, that traffic fatalities are up as compared with the figures of last year, so we must use every means to curb accidents. I invite every citizen to do his share in preventing these traffic tragedies on our roads."

The State Safety Coordinating Committee said, "This campaign would be launched Sunday, June 6, by State Troopers who will ask motorists to show their Stay Alive '65 bumper stickers on their cars. The news media over the state will carry news articles and safety information during the months of the program."

500 Boys To Attend Boy Scout Camp

Mr. R. H. Cobbs, III, of Andalusia, Camping and Activities Chairman for the Alabama-Florida Council, announced today that reservations have been made for nearly 500 boys to attend Summer Camp at the Boy Scout Reservation near New Brockton.

The boys will participate in a program of camping, hiking, archery, marksmanship, forestry, canoeing, boating, swimming, and cooking. The high point of camp this summer, outdoor camping, will be of special interest to the Scouts coming, for here they will do extra work on their second and first class skills; and also, participate in some survival training and astronomy studies.

Serving on the staff of the Boy Scout Reservation from Elba will be Mike Williams - Marksmanship Director and Instructor at the Rifle range.

Troop #37 will represent Elba at camp.

Monthly News

JUNE, 1965

BE GOOD TO YOUR DOG THIS SUMMER
Hot, sultry, Summer "Dog Days" are as tough on dogs as people. Expectancy if your dog is getting old. During a heat wave, don't take your dog on the street except early in the morning or late at night. The hot pavement may burn his paws.

KEEP COOLED DRINKING WATER SHADED
Spray his kennel's roof with water several times during a hot sunny day. The evaporation reduces the inside heat. Better have his hair clipped by a professional. Too short hair can cause a painful blistered sunburn.

TEACH CHILDREN NOT TO FEED DOGS
Most child dog bites are not the dog's fault. As a rule, children under six consider a dog to be a toy rather than an animal which will bite if annoyed too much. Pups that are should have a dog. A playful puppy has a tendency to nip or bite more. Usually middle aged dogs are safer pets. Aging dogs (more than ten years old) may become short tempered and bite if irritated.

BATHIE YOUR DOG REGULARLY
Especially after a swim in salt water be careful to clean your dog's face around the eyes of matter which can irritate them. We can help you select, from our complete stock of dog remedies, a special soap which will help relieve skin irritations and chase away fleas.

A DOG IS AN UNSELFISH FRIEND
He so gratefully appreciates the least attention and will always forgive a thoughtless harmful act. Be especially kind to your dog, or any dog, during the coming hot days. His wagging tail and the love you see in his eyes will be ample reward.

Farm News

BY TOM CASADY, CO. AGENT

Howard Smith, Jr., of spray to control flies on Kinston was telling me that one day about a teenage boy who was riding with him on his tractor. It seems that the boy turned to wave to someone, lost his footing and fell. As he fell, he brushed against Smith and Smith brought the tractor to a stop before the tractor passed over the rider. Luckily no one was injured, but I might remind everyone that if we can get a good rain this week that our crops will not be severely damaged. We need a real good rain now to prevent damage to older corn and to young boys and girls and even pre-schoolers will be riding tractors. Let's be extremely careful around tractors and equipment.

The Soil Testing Laboratory at Auburn recommends that 1 pound of nitrogen per 1000 square feet of lawn be applied every 8 weeks. This amount of actual nitrogen will keep your lawn green. Centipede lawns should receive only one application of nitrogen in the spring. Nitrogen should be spread evenly. If you are using ammonia nitrate, 3 pounds of this material will give one pound of actual nitrogen.

Worms in hogs are costing Coffee County producers thousands of dollars each year. Worm damage shows up in stunted hogs. Pigs infested with worms require a lot more feed to put on 100 pounds of gain than pigs that are free of worms. If you have hogs, they are wormy. If you have not wormed your pigs and sows recently, it will pay you to go ahead and worm them now.

Some of our best producers do a good job of spraying their cattle for flies and other insects. Hayward Taylor of Elba, James and Ellis Wise of Fairview, Charles Gibson of Enterprise, Route 2, and several other growers
